DETAILED ACTION

Claims 3 and 5 have been amended as requested in the amendment filed 15 September 2009. Claims 1-24 are currently pending and the subject of the instant Office action. Applicant should note that claim 21 is missing a status identifier. This should be corrected by amendment in the next response.

Applicant should also note that the specification and claims do not refer to sequence identifiers when making reference to amino acid and nucleic acid sequences. Examination of the instant application is going to be precluded if the sequences identifiers are not provided in the next response. Applicant should refer to MPEP 2422 and 37 CFR 1.821(a)-(d). For example, it is not proper to refer to "the 145-amino acid sequence set forth in Figure 7"; it must be referred to using a sequence identifier (see 37 CFR 1.821(d)). Correction is required.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-7, 16-17, 21, 23-24, drawn to a VEGF polypeptide of Figure 7 and method of inducing migration of vascular endothelial cells and compositions comprising or containing said polypeptide.

Group II, claim(s) 8-10, drawn to a method of attenuating chemotherapy toxicity.

Group III, claim(s) 11-12, drawn to a method of lengthening the life-span of living tissue or cells by administering the polypeptide of Figure 7.

Group IV, claim(s) 13-15, drawn to a method of protecting against ischemic reperfusion injury by administering the polypeptide of Figure 7

Group V, claim(s) 18-20, drawn to a method of increasing the rate of wound healing by applying a VEGF variant.

Group VI, claim(s) 22, drawn to a method of inducing survival pathway in stem cells by administering the polypeptide of Figure 7.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: an international application must relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept. Unity of invention relates to a group of inventions where there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The invention of Group I is directed to a product (VEGF-D polypeptide of Figure 7), first method of using the product (method of inducing migration) and an apparatus comprising the product. If multiple products, processes or manufacture or uses are claimed, the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims of the application and the first recited invention of each of the other categories related thereto will be considered as the main invention in the claims (see PCT Article 17(3)(a)). The claims are directed to multiple processes reflected in Groups II-VI. Because the application shall only relate to one invention or group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept, Groups II-VI lack unity of invention with the inventions of Group I since they are additional methods and Group I already contains the first recited method of using the VEGF polypeptide of Figure 7.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Rejoinder

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
